As Luck Would Have It

To many, the number 13 is seen as a significant number, sometimes conjuring up good fortune, or sometimes, conjuring up a sense of unpredictability. As members of the graduating Class of 2013, we especially understand that this number, this 13, stands for more than what the charmed symbol traditionally represents. We know that, "as luck would have it", we are all fortunate to be a part of this class, surrounded by these classmates, this faculty, these coaches, and our friends. Through the fortuitous coming together of all of these people, we have formed irreplaceable bonds and memories that we will share for the rest of our lives. As the Class of 2013, we have achieved goals, overcome obstacles, and left an indelible mark on Stoneham High School as a strong and accomplished class. Allowing fate to run its serendipitous course, we are lucky to have together experienced our childhoods and matured into young adults. We took what chance had to offer us and we are proud and pleased of our graduating class. Looking forward to our future, we hope that this good luck and good fortune will continue, and that we will take all that we have learned here at Stoneham High School out into the world. As luck would have it, we are prepared for our next chapters because of what we have experienced with one another, and we will now take fate into our own hands as we shape the rest of our lives. Reflecting on our journey, it is clear that we would not have wanted our luck to play out in any other way.

Dedication

Mr. Kurt von Sneidern

Mr. von Sneidern has inspired our class both inside and outside the classroom. Throughout his six years as a history and economics teacher, he has created a lasting impact on the class of 2013. After graduating from Bentley University with original hopes of becoming an entrepreneur, he discovered his true passion - teaching. His ability to connect with his students, his unique teaching methods and more often than not, his extremely energetic behavior provides students with the interest and the drive to learn.

As students walk down the hallway, Mr. V's bellowing voice can be heard ranting passionately about one topic or another. Although it can be distractingly comical, his booming voice is a constant reminder of the dedication and interest he has in the material he teaches. He is always thinking of new and creative ways to convey his knowledge. Although we never seem to have enough time to actually complete the list of activities he has planned for the period, there is never a dull moment in his class.

Unfortunately, not every student in our school has had the opportunity to have Mr. Von Sneidern as a teacher. Lucky for them, his involvement in our school extends beyond the doors of Stoneham High. Mr. V is known for his amazing field trips. Sophomore year, he organized a five day trip for any interested sophomore students to Washington D.C. Within these five days, we experienced more than we could have imagined. Every day was filled with planned activities. We learned more on that trip than we could have thought possible. Along the way, our class created unforgettable memories that will never fade.

Mr. V also organized a New York City field trip for his economics classes where students attended the 9/11 Memorial and visited the Stock Market. He takes the information we learned in the classroom and converts that information into a hands-on experience. Overall, we can agree that Mr. V enjoys his trips just as much as we do. Both of these trips will be remembered as highlights of our high school career.

Finally, Mr. von Sneidern attends graduation every year not only to wish us well, but to watch as his students prepare to enter the world beyond Stoneham High. Mr. V. claims he still has a long road ahead until reaching his idea of success as a teacher. Considering the incredible impact he has had on our class, he is on his way to reaching his goal. The life lessons he has taught us over the past four years will remain with us throughout the course of our lives. Mr. V has brought new meaning and importance to the word education and has sparked within us a desire to learn. The Class of 2013 would like to thank Mr. von Sneidern for all the support, time, and passion he has dedicated to all of us during our four years at Stoneham High School.

FACULTY

The summer before our freshman year we waited anxiously to find out what classes were on our schedules and what teachers would be fortunate enough to have us in class. For the most part, these teachers were chosen by the luck of the draw, influenced only by the few course selections we were allowed to make. Yet, no matter which teachers' names appeared on our schedules, we have been exceedingly fortunate to have been taught by any member of the Stoneham High School faculty. They have helped us to grow both as students and as individuals. Becoming more than instructors, they have also become mentors, confidants, and even friends when we need them.

For four years our faculty has guided us and treated us with respect, in turn, earning our respect for them. For four years they have provided us with the means, the tools, and most importantly, the knowledge to better ourselves as students and people. Luck may have led us to their classrooms, but the faculty has shown us how to take fate into our own hands as we prepare to enter the rush of the world.

RETIREES

Mrs. Justine Croteau retires from SHS after twelve years as the Program Supervisor of Guidance. Under her direction, the Guidance department entered the technology age. Naviance is now used by all juniors and seniors to help them in the college selection process. Mrs. Croteau also revamped the GPA calculation and scheduled more class visits by the guidance counselors thus ensuring all students were aware of the variety of guidance services.

Mrs. Lydia Breen, seen here with Mr. Bones, leaves SHS after thirty-one years of service. She will be remembered for the SHS "zoo", the Science Club, and for initiating the salt marsh field trips which were always educational and, more often than not, adventurous! Mrs. Breen also encouraged the adoption of these courses: AP Biology, Medical Science, and Anatomy & Physiology, paving the way for future medical professionals!

Sweeney Todd

The Seniors!

The crazed beggar woman pleads with Anthony for a few shillings.

Mrs. Lovett and Sweeney Todd plan their revenge on those who have wronged them.

The show opens with the ghost-faced ensemble shaking the coffin of the infamous Sweeney Todd.

An enormous, eerie coffin sits in the midst of a decrepit town; on one side stands a pie-shop in shambles, on the other a sinister mansion. The audience is eagerly anticipating what will arise from the coffin. Thus begins the SHS Drama Club's production of Sweeney Todd: The Demon Barber of Fleet Street. An ambitious production, the musical would not have been possible without Director Mr. Jason Eppskrier, Music Director Mr. Robert Lague, Assistant Director Connor Barry, and Stage Managers Thomas Dalton and Bill Hanley. Tiago Degen-Portnoy designed the impressively imposing set; a grim Fleet Street, complete with a two-story pie shop that allows the demon barber to tower over the audience. The construction crew created this vision under the lead of Technical Directors Chris Bilbo and Mary Kate McGrath. The dedicated work of senior crew members Pat Dunham, Liam Harrington, Aly Kruse, Arden Percoco, and Nicole Trant, along with props by Kathryn Murphy and extensive artwork by Meaghan O'Neill, helped make the stunning set a reality. As the lights dimmed and the first member of the ghost-faced ensemble (Ashlyn Edwards) crept up from the trap door to start the show, it became clear how well the dramatic makeup, designed with the help of Sucharita Mukherjee, would set the eldritch tone of the show.

As the story begins, Sweeney Todd (Nick Preziosi), emerges from the coffin to tell his tale. Benjamin Barker is a haunted barber banished long ago due to false accusations by the evil Judge Turpin (Jeff Siegel) who had fallen in love with Benjamin Barker's beautiful wife Lucy (Abi Hertz). The barber returns to Fleet Street under the moniker Sweeney Todd to seek his lost wife and child, and instead finds his old home inhabited by the happily deranged pie-shop owner Mrs. Lovett, (Zoey Michaels) who informs him that his wife has long since died, and Judge Turpin has locked away his daughter Johanna (Emily Pinto). When a traveling scam artist and barber named Pirelli (Denise O'Brien) remembers Sweeney Todd as the long lost Benjamin Barker, Sweeney murders him with his shaving razors and undertakes Pirelli's assistant, the young boy Toby (Riley Moriarty). Mrs. Lovett conjures up the macabre notion to bake Sweeney Todd's "clients" into meat pies. None of the townspeople suspect the grotesque scheme except for a pestering beggar woman (Nicole Cerullo).

The show ends tragically as Sweeney Todd murders the beggar woman, for fear she will interrupt his attempts to kill Judge Turpin. It is only later that he realizes that Mrs. Lovett failed to reveal that the beggar woman was, in fact, the very much alive Lucy. Enraged, Sweeney also kills Mrs. Lovett. The play comes to its unfortunate end as the deeply disturbed Toby murders Sweeney Todd.

Without the musical talents of the ensemble (Jen Desrosiers) and pit band (Max Mullowney, Catherine Bos), the show would not have been nearly as horrifying. Sufficiently frightening, well executed, and entertaining, the production is certainly one to be remembered for many years to come.

What was your favorite memory of Sweeney Todd?

Nick Preziosi

"I enjoyed the combination of the fake blood and razor and dropping people down the chair."

Bill Hanley

"I got to practice launching people down the chair. There was a line of people because it was so much fun."

Tiago Degen-Portnoy

"I remember running around the school getting the light design done while trying to stay out of trouble."

Nicole Cerullo

"During one of the runs, I forgot my cue then, when I finally got on stage, I forgot my line. It was hysterical."

Anthony and Johanna make plans for their future together.

The Cast!

Sweeney regales Anthony with the tragic story of Benjamin Barker.

The ghost-faced ensemble joins in the songs.

Sweeney and Lovett rejoice in their newfound scheming.

The Beedle and Judge Turpin plot the entrapment of Johanna.

Pirelli persuades his audience into buying his "miracle elixir."

The Crew!

Toby cajoles the audience with his cute face.

The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe

The Pevinses are stopped by intruding cops on their escape from England.

An excited Reindeer, Leopard, and Tiger look on as the battle for Narnia is won.

Tumnus tells a riveting story, but it is a trap for Lucy!

The infuriated White Witch yells at her minions, Maugrim and Grumpskin.

As the crowning jewel of C.S. Lewis' The Chronicles of Narnia, The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe is an intrinsic part of the childhood of many teenagers. Taking these standards completely in stride, the SHS Drama Club produced an interpretation of the fantasy that fully conveyed the magic of the original novel. Under the direction of Mr. Jason Eppskrier, and with the coordination of Stage Manager Thomas Dalton and Assistant Shona Barton-Negreiros, the cast and crew worked together to bring the fictional land of Narnia to life. Technical Directors Mary Kate McGrath and Bill Hanley, Artistic Director Meaghan O'Neill, Props Masters Kathryn Murphy and Ben Doucette, and Lighting Designer Tiago Degen-Portnoy created the beautiful aesthetic of Narnia, complete with snow-covered trees, the mystical Stone Table, a stunning Ice Palace, homes for several Narnians, the obligatory lamppost, and an impressive rotating wardrobe. Max Mullowney's original music contributed to the mood of the production. Heads of Costumes Caroline Thompson and Kacey Green, along with their crew, including seniors Jen Desrosiers and Kaylee Cataldo-Perry, worked intensively with Hair and Makeup Heads Sucharita Mukherjee, Zoey Michaels, and Molly O'Neill to transfigure ordinary high school students into leopards, lions, mermaids, and unicorns. The efforts of senior crew members Olivia Yeomelakis, Liam Harrington, and Patrick Doherty were also indispensable to the show.

The play begins as the four Pevensie children; Peter (Liam Rondeau), Susan (Alyssa Bené), Edmund (Justin Katz), and Lucy (Rebecca Lerman) are evacuated from a war-torn London to the estate of the eccentric Professor (Ben Doucette) in the countryside. Soon after their arrival, Lucy, the youngest, discovers a mysterious wardrobe, through which lays the land of Narnia. There she meets the friendly faun, Tumnus (Ashlyn Edwards), who explains that the Narnians are being oppressed by the tyrannical White Witch (Zoey Michaels). When Lucy returns to England, she is dismayed to find that her siblings do not believe in her adventures. She later returns to Narnia to visit Tumnus, and unbeknownst to her, Edmund follows, but meets the White Witch and her accomplice, the dwarf Grumpskin (Amanda Collier) instead. The Witch bribes Edmund to return to her with his siblings, though she withholds from him that she intends to kill them to prevent the prophecy of her downfall from being fulfilled. As the siblings arrive in Narnia, they meet a variety of Narnians, all of whom tell them that the revered Aslan (Ben Doucette) is supposedly returning. After a harrowing journey, they meet with Aslan at the Stone Table. He sacrifices himself to the White Witch to redeem Edmund for his traitorous acts, but is then resurrected. An army is rallied to combat the Witch, and ultimately good triumphs over evil. The Pevensies are crowned Kings and Queens of Narnia, and rule harmoniously for years until they stumble back through the wardrobe into England, where no time has passed at all.

As this classic fantasy concludes the audience, once again, settles back into reality. The efforts of all participants are rewarded with thrilling applause. This production will be long remembered as one of finest presented by the SHS Drama Club.

NHS Induction

Ms. Rubin delivers the Honors Address.

The inductees recite the National Honor Society pledge.

Mrs. Cargill delivers the Welcome Address.

Ms. Rubin and the officers wait for the ceremony to begin.

Ms. Rubin and the 2013 officers of the Stoneham High School Chapter of the National Honor Society.

National Honor Society is a prestigious organization that honors the dedication and diligence of high school students to their education and extracurricular activities. Each year, a new group of juniors is chosen to be inducted into National Honor Society. Inductees must maintain a minimum GPA and also display commitment to the four pillars of the National Honor Society: leadership, scholarship, character, and service.

This year, the Stoneham High School Chapter of the National Honor Society inducted thirty-five new members. The induction ceremony began with the Welcome Address, delivered by Principal Donna Cargill, who welcomed the inductees and their families. After the playing of the national anthem, the four officers delivered their speeches. First, Vice-President Alexandra Kruse eloquently discussed the importance of leadership, in school, on the field, or in a club. President Aiko Laski spoke about the virtues of scholarship, commending the new inductees for their dedication and passion for their education, urging the students to take full advantage of their education. Secretary Elizabeth Turner discussed the importance of good character, and how it impacts oneself and one's peers every day. Treasurer Sucharita Mukherjee concluded the officers' speeches with a beautifully-written essay on service. She elaborated on the necessity for dedication not only to one's education, but to one's community as well.

This year, the Honors Address was delivered by Mrs. Ilyse Rubin Mahoney. Introduced by Sucharita, Ms. Rubin spoke about her own experience as a member of the National Honor Society during high school, and how it positively impacted her work ethic, morals, and diligence. She urged the inductees to continue to maintain their high standards throughout life. The Honorary Membership to the National Honor Society was then awarded to Mrs. Lydia Breen, a biology teacher at Stoneham High School for over thirty years, who is retiring this year. Liz introduced Mrs. Breen and commended her on her outstanding and long-lasting commitment to the education of her students and to Stoneham High School.

After Mrs. Breen was awarded her Honorary Membership, the Candle Light Ceremony began. The lights dimmed and one by one, the new inductees mounted the stage to receive their pins and certificates and light their candles. After all the names had been called, the inductees recited the National Honor Society Pledge, vowing to uphold the high standards of the National Honor Society and to continue to strive for academic excellence. Finally, the newly inducted members posed for pictures and received congratulations from their family members. It was a thoughtful and important ceremony, and certainly one the inductees and officers will never forget.

Words From The Wise

President Aiko Laski

It takes perseverance to challenge oneself, nd willpower to continue to maintain high tandards. True scholars push on because hey want to enhance their education. These tudents pursue knowledge, not only to chieve academic excellence, but because hey are passionate learners."

Vice-President Alexandra Kruse

"Leadership is not simply a matter of commendations and praise. It is how you treat your peers - how you inspire them, work with them, and gain their respect while giving them your own."

Secretary Elizabeth Turner

"Your character shows who you are as a person and good character is a very valuable trait to have. These features and traits are not things that can be learned in a book or taught."

Treasurer Sucharita Mukherjee

"Chasing excellence in service means continuing with your work and going the extra mile to give back. Chasing excellence in service means making a positive impact in the world not for the glory or the praise, but for the satisfaction of having put others before yourself."

Marge Murray, mother of the police officer who found Matthew, is interviewed regarding the Matthew Shepard incident.

Dennis Shepard gives a heart-felt statement before passing judgement on Aaron McKinney.

Embodying the many different personalities of Laramie, Wyoming in 1998, the cast of the SHS Drama Club's production of The Laramie Project takes the stage. Just as the eyes of the nation and the world were, the eyes of the audience are turned upon the town of Laramie and the recollection of the tragic event that ensued there. Under the direction of Mr. Jason Eppskrier, The Laramie Project was undoubtedly one of the most powerful and important stories performed by the drama club. Assistant Directors Zoey Michaels and Alyssa Bene, along with Stage Manager Thomas Dalton, worked to create a production as moving and realistic as possible. Tiago Degen-Portnoy and Mary Kate McGrath designed the compelling set – a mixture between a run-down, rural setting and technological representations of the notorious media storm. The work of crew is always a challenge for Drama Festival as the set not only needs to be built, but also transported and set up at the new location in five minutes, and none of this would have been possible without the dedication of senior crew members Meaghan O'Neill, Pat Dunham, Pat Doherty, Lilly Shamlian, Caden Byrne, Kaylee Cataldo-Perry, Jen Desrosiers, and Liam Harrington. Props by Kathryn Murphy and hair and makeup by Sucharita Mukherjee helped to capture the truth of this crucial story.

The story of Matthew Shepard, a homosexual college student who was brutally murdered by two men giving him a lift home at night, is one with which many are familiar. It is, however, the most impactful when told from the very human perspective of the theater troop that visited Laramie and conducted the many interviews that comprise The Laramie Project. All eleven actors in the show were cast in multiple roles, showcasing the vastly different perspectives of the town of Laramie and bringing new light to the tragedy. For example, Ashlyn Edwards opened the show as a theater troupe member and then transitioned into other roles, such as a pensive theater teacher. Zoey Michaels delivered stunning performances, from a deeply disturbed hospital manager to a guilt-ridden young townsperson. Amanda Collier took on many difficult roles as well, powerfully conveying the shock of the man who found Matthew Shepard crudely tied to the notorious fence. A video produced by Bill Hanley, Liam Rondeau, Justin Katz, and Aaron Ford, set an impeccable tone and helped educate the audience as to which interview was being portrayed. By the end of the festival performance the cast, audience, and a Drama Festival judge were moved to tears.

The show contained such weighty subject matter that everyone involved felt a personal connection, providing both the actors and crewmembers a great sense of purpose. Every person put a tremendous amount of heart into the performance and though the show did not advance to the semi-final level, this dedication was recognized by the judges and audience members. All-Star Awards were given for set design, video production, and to actors Jakob Michaels, Liam Rondeau, and Riley Moriarty.
Everyone participating in the show was exponentially proud of the ability of the final product to reach the audience and convey the important message against hate and hate crimes. The experience of working on The Laramie Project was emotional and unforgettable, and all who saw and participated in the show will undoubtedly remember it far into the future.

Captains' Words

Our 2012 season was a year of improvement for all players. As a first year varsity coach, Coach Adams brought her new perspective and enthusiasm to the team, making us all more excited and motivated to play. Although this season did not go as planned, because of injuries to key players, we still progressed as a team and rose to new challenges. Our record was 3-13-2, but many games were closer than the final outcomes reflected. A few of our most memorable moments were in our games against Watertown and Wakefield. We held our own against the best team in the state, something no one thought we would able to accomplish. Throughout the years we have had a constant rivalry with Wakefield, but finally beat them to end our season. This was a great way to leave everything we had on the field in our last game together. Our seniors this year were Amanda Collier, Julie DeBenedetto, Shannon Hardy, Marisa LoPilato, Allie Mahoney, Sarah Muolo, Katelyn Rago, and Jami Vetrano-Olsen. Despite the obstacles we had to overcome, our team grew extremely close and always enjoyed playing with one another. We are so thankful to have been a part of the program and we wish the field hockey teams much luck in years to come!

Captains' Words

The Middlesex League yet again this year showed no easy opponent on the golf course. Despite going 0-14 the Spartans never gave up in every match, and had a very fulfilling year. Every day the team would be out practicing trying to improve, whether it was at the local golf course or the driving range. It was also hard losing four seniors from last year's team who were our top golfers.

This season the squad had four seniors: Captain Bobby Giordano, who has played since sophomore year and is the teams's power hitter. Next, we have Danny Bullock, who was the team's most consistent golfer and has played since freshman year. Danny broke his wrist due to a soccer injury, which made him miss the first couple of matches of the year. Another senior, Ben Allen, has played since junior year and seemed to get stronger as the year went along and was determined in every match. The last and newest senior on the team was Robbie Paone. This was Robbie's first year playing in the Middlesex League and he was fully prepared to battle every match.

The rest of the team was made up by the underclassmen who learned so much more as the year went on. Cam Lemay who had a love for the game, TJ Finn who was one of the hardest workers, Ryan Mooney who never gave up on a hole, Dillon Horgan who was one of the team's strongest golfers, Brendan Tarmey who always had fun, and the enthusiastic Noah Coccoluto. The seniors wish the returning players good luck for next year and hope they keep up their hard work.

Captains' Words

"We play for the name on the front of our jerseys, not the name on the back." This one quote truly describes how our season turned out. From the beginning of the season we were "the unexpected", we knew we had many obstacles to overcome, but from day one we all believed that anything was possible. Thanks to our determined coaching staff, lead by head coach Paul Hardy and assisted by Meghan Flynn, we were able to pull together as a team and finish with a final record of 14-7. Our biggest game of the season would have to be our game against Reading. Our stands were packed. We were all super excited and determined to take a game from our rivals. Although we did not win the match, we did, however, take a game from Reading, something Stoneham Volleyball has not done in a long time. This season had very few low points. From day one, we all had the same goal and that was to win Tournament. Although we did not accomplish our number one goal, we did gain much more - life long memories and friends. Our seniors this year were Jeila Carr, Jennifer Desrosiers, Co-Captains Gia Raczkowski and Samantha Trant. This team was truly motivated thanks to our captains, who made sure everyone left everything out on the court. We are proud of how our season turned out. We became close as a team and have truly contributed to rebuilding this program. During the season, we had many good times, from volunteering, to pasta parties, to multiple team sleepovers, including many inside jokes (candy corn). We will always remember this season and the way we pulled together as a team and became "the unexpected". We wish the girls next year the best of luck. Best wishes to upcoming captains, Emily Trant and Zoe Staude. Just remember girls, "Believe".

Captains' Words

The team has always been small so we were excited this year when we found out that there were eighteen girls on our, roster including ten seniors: Emily Allard, Melissa Arno, Julie James, Abby Kendall, Emily Kendall, Gabrielle McDonough, Brianne Morse, Arden Percoco, Lilly Shamlian, and Junko Yamazaki. We finished our season with a record of 1-0-6. Although it was not our best, this team has never worked harder. Each day, every member gave her all through the longs runs and workouts. Our hard work and determination paid off. Each week, everyone became faster and faster as we learned how to work as a team. Mr. Norton always told us, "People say that cross country is an individual sport, but in a participator's opinion it is everything but that." Individually we all shined but it would not have been possible if it were not for the support from one another as well as our coach, Mr. Norton. We would like to thank Mr. Norton for everything he has done for this team. His love for the sport and devotion to our team taught us to chase our goals and to never doubt our capabilities. This season, our dedicated team became a family, on and off of the trails. Along with our weekly pasta parties before meets, our team has bonded through scavenger hunts, sleepovers and team breakfasts. We even traveled into Boston to participate in the JDRF walk to cure diabetes. Good job this season, girls; we are so proud of all of you!

Captains' Words

The beginning of this cross country was difficult for our team. We started with only four runners when a minimum of five athletes were needed to compete in a race. Fortunately, we managed to add two quality and dedicated runners to our roster by the end of the season. Although our numbers were small, we quickly realized that the worth of a team is not determined by the numbers it has, but by the hard work that each individual puts in. With the help of Coach Xavier Garcia, we won many individual victories; although we were unfortunately unsuccessful in winning a meet. Coach Garcia dedicated his time to helping us reach our full potential both as athletes and as people. Due to his intense and intelligently developed workouts, every individual on the team was able to record multiple personal records this season. Some individuals knocked minutes off of their times from last year. Coach Xavier Garcia inspired us to give our best effort every day at practice and to persevere through the difficult times. Our hard work paid off as the team was able to record some impressive times. Our team possessed strong unity and I am looking forward to hearing of the success that the team will achieve next year. Four dedicated runners will be returning to the team next year and will be led by strong leadership. We wish them good luck.

Captains' Words

This year has been the most successful year in Stoneham High cheerleading history. With our hard work and dedication we reached our goal which was to make it to the state competition. Not only did we reach this goal, we surpassed it by placing in the top three -- which is unheard of for those squads competing in their first states competition. The road to states was amazing; we placed second at both the leagues meet and at regionals, huge accomplishments! We couldn't have done it without our coach always pushing us to be the best we can be. Thank you to all the girls who made this year so memorable! Good luck next year!

Captains' Words

Every year Stoneham High School soccer never disappoints. This year was that and more. With 11 seniors and 8 underclassmen this team was anything but inseparable. We all got along and always enjoyed each others company. Our final record was 6-8-4. Although our record was not that great, the morale, determination, passion and perseverance on the team was outstanding. Towards the end of the season we needed to either win our last four games or win three and tie one; losing was not an option. We battled through as a unit as more challenges came upon us. With two games left we needed to win out. A win over Reading gave us our shot to the tournament playing against Watertown. Although this goal was not met we still showed everyone that even when your backs are against the wall, with some willpower, enthusiasm and heart, anything is possible. Everyone on the team worked to their full potential and that is all we could have asked for. We would like to especially thank our coaches, teammates, and fans without whom none of this would have been possible. This is more than a team, this is a family. #SFC12 R.I.P

Captains' Words

After finishing last year with a victorious season and making history, we were faced with the challenge to continue performing at a high level of play. Through a spring club team, Appian, summer league, and preseason workouts, each girl recognized her role on the team and had a passion for the game. We finished with a record of 12-7-1. We were blessed to have such a devoted coach, Ms. Chapman, who constantly supported and inspired our team to achieve success. Her constant encouragement to "play with heart" was visible on the field as each girl played with enthusiasm and perseverance. The variety of personalities on our team made our season fun, and we could not have asked for a better group of girls to share our senior year with! We have won, lost, cried, laughed, and celebrated together. But no matter what happened, we always stuck together and remained positive. We volunteered with the boys' team by participating in Helping Our Troops and Cradles to Crayons, and raised money for breast cancer during our Kicks for Cancer game. It was always a race to get to the pasta parties after practice. It got intense and no, there were never any leftovers. Making it to the quarter finals, our season came to an end, but our memories, life lessons, and friendships will last a lifetime. Thank you to the fellow seniors, underclassmen, and coaching staff for a memorable season. It was truly an honor being the captains of this incredible team. Good luck next year. We love you all and will miss you.

Captains' Words

Without a doubt, this season was different for the 2012 Stoneham Spartan Football team. However the change that everyone is most familiar with is our undefeated start and our 7-4 record, a clear change to the previous seasons. This year's success was marked by a change in culture to the program. In the past, many people put themselves before the common goal of the team. This year we feel that our goals as a team became the number one priority for all involved in the program, allowing us to achieve what this team was fully capable of doing. This team, more so than ever before, became one family, with one heartbeat, and one goal. We would like to thank the students and other fans who showed great support throughout the season - you made playing on Friday nights more memorable for all of us. Thanks to all the seniors who have truly been through everything on that field and never gave up: Frank Sparco, Jared Macone, Matt Dabenigno, Eric Mooney, Andrew Cann, Erick Bidot, Chris Doherty, Sean Kent, Liam Harrington, AJ Kirk, Steve Toussaint, Bill Hanley, Dalton Cox, and Tyler Yianacopolous. This will truly be a season that we will never forget. We did everything that was expected of us, and we did things that people said we would never do. It was a very emotional season, good and bad, but it couldn't have been done with a better group of young men. We are all proud to say we are a part of this football family.

H2O: two parts Heart and one part Obsession. ~Author Unknown

We can think of no better quote for the 2012 swim season. We may hold the title of the smallest team in the Middlesex league, but we like to think we also hold the title for the team with the most pride and determination. This team is a true example of the idea that the success of a team is not measured by its wins and losses, but by personal achievements.

When our season began we welcomed three new swimmers to the team as well as fourteen returning swimmers. We competed in ten meets and although we did not walk away with a win we came very close swimming against Woburn and Melrose. Throughout the season we were all able to PR in our races.

The relay team of Kaylie O'Connell, Kiersten Dudman, Allie Muldowney, and Bailee Day went to sectionals and placed 11th in the 200 yard freestyle with a time of 1:50 and 14th in the 400 yard freestyle with a time of 4:08.

Kaylie also swam two personal events placing 5th in the 200 Freestyle with a time of 1:57 and 5th again in the 100 yard butterfly with a time of 1:00. Bailee also competed in 2 personal events 100 yard breaststroke with a time of 1.16 and 100 freestyle with a time of 58.3 . These times allowed this group of girls to move on to States.

At States the girls continued to make us proud. The 400 relay team finished 15th with a time of 4:07 and 13th in the 200 relay finishin with a time of 1:50. In personal events Kaylie placed 3rd, with a time of 59.89 in the 100 yard butterfly and 1.57 in the 200 yard freestyle.

Our parting words of wisdom: Take the lessons we have learned in the pool into your life. Be strong, determined and know anything is possible. Good Luck Spartans!

Captains' Words

The 2012-2013 winter season was a solid one. We may not have had the record we wanted but our individual accomplishments outweighed our record. We had a lot of seniors graduate which was a huge loss to our team, so most of our season we were trying to rebuild. We were most likely the smallest team in the league. But our season was a success in that we were by far the hardest working, most dedicated team in the league. Day in and day out we pushed ourselves individually and as a team, and we grew stronger every day. Our captains took on the role of leadership and led the team. Alex Brown demonstrated determination by showing his tenacity in every single one of his races. Alec Kheboian brought the fun atmosphere to the team by always having a positive attitude. Sean Kent led the throwers with his experience and expertise. Sean Bryan brought the excitement to the team with his inspirational speeches. Austin Bryan showed leadership by bringing guidance and determination. We could not have had a better coaching staff with Xavier and Jonathan Garcia, two coaches who are very experienced, determined, and love what they do. Without their leadership and push we would not have been the team we were. We had seven athletes qualify for states-Austin Bryan, Sean Bryan, Jimmy O'Brien, Alex Brown, Alec Kheboian, Joe Brown and Tyler Malone. Stoneham High Track has a group of athletes with a very bright future in anything they choose to accomplish.

Captains' Words

As the Girls Indoor Track season opened this year, we had high hopes for the brand new season. We had many newcomers join the team, from our large crop of freshmen, as well as several sophomores, juniors, and seniors. In addition, it was Ms. Hoar's first year as head coach of the indoor team at Stoneham High, where she also coaches the outdoor team. She, along with our other coaches, Ms. DiLisio, and Stoneham High alumnus, Alana Reinold, helped create an inviting atmosphere and helped us excel to our full potential.

We had a difficult season in the challenging Middlesex League; however, track is a sport where the individual can always have amazing performances, despite the final score. Throughout the season and amongst the team, these personal records reflected the spirit and devotion of our athletes. They showed up every day with energy that made the afternoons, and even long Saturday meets, fun. The coaches always made sure we trained hard but never took ourselves too seriously. We may have run through the snow and ice one day and may have run around the gym dressed in crazy clothing the next, but never the less our hard work allowed us to live up to our theme for the season: Carpe Diem. Seize the day.

Lastly, we would like to give an especially big thank you to our seniors: Melissa Arno, Shannon Hardy, Gabby McDonough, Amanda Mohammadi, Morgan Havican, Brianne Morse, Sucharita Mukherjee, Emily Kendall, Navi Nunez, Abby Kendall, Aly Kruse, and Junko Yamazaki. They were the backbone of the team, always willing to help out teammates, possessing an abundance of talent and irreplaceable personality. We wish them all the best of luck next year!

Captains' Words

This year we had an amazing season. Our overall record was 5-2. Despite the many injuries, we managed third place in the Middlesex League. Our biggest meet was the league meet, where we achieved our highest score of the season of 134.8. Although we had the same record this season as last, the difference this year was that we had a lot of depth, which is extremely important to have in gymnastics. Also a huge aspect, good for every sports team, is that we were so close knit and comfortable with each other that everything just flowed and we had a fun season. Some of our struggles during the season were on balance beam; we just couldn't seem to stay on and that hurt us the most in our two losses. We owe a lot of our success to Coach Annemarie McNeil; she is an excellent coach and provided much support to our team. She is always so excited and confident that it motivated us to do our best. We had a very memorable and successful season.

Captains' Words

After a successful 2011-2012 season, earning a spot in the State tournament, we had high hopes returning for the 2012-2013 winter season. We started the season with two solid home wins against Middlesex big teams: Winchester and Belmont. Half way through the season we ranked high in Division 3 with an overall record of 7-3. This was due to the fierce defense that we played every night. We were second in the Middlesex League with an average of 54.1 points against per game. We finished the season 11-9 which ranked us 7th out of 12 teams. Highlights from the season include senior Captain Eric Mooney's clutch jump shot, accumulating 27 points that helped defeat Winchester in the first game of the season. Senior Captain William Butts caught fire in the blowout win against Wilmington scoring 17 first-half points. Senior Captain Rob Clemente displayed his shooting touch in the rematch against Wilmington that ended in an overtime victory 77-70. Rob hit 7 three-pointers and had a combined 25 points which proved to be the X-factor in the win. Junior Steve McGrath also had a huge game against Lexington in which he carried our offensive attack with 37 points. Senior guard Joe Petto brought tenacity to our team which made everybody work harder while wearing a smile on and off the court. We would like to thank head coach Paul Tanglis, assistant coach Kevin Tanglis, assistant coach Kurt von Sneidern, and assistant coach Bob Almeida, because without them, we would not have beat the high caliber teams such as Wakefield. Memories from this season will live with us forever. We wish the team the best of luck for next season.

Captains' Words

This season the girls basketball team accomplished more than anyone expected. Prior to the start of the season, we were ranked below almost every team in the Middlesex League. However, we took pride in being the underdogs and ultimately finished our season in first place of the Freedom League, bringing Stoneham the second Middlesex League Championship in just four years. We would not be the team we are today if it weren't for the amazing coaching staff we have been blessed to have. This consisted of Head Coach Sara Mills, Assistant Coach Bill Killilea, and Assistant Coach Laura Hansbury. We thank you for all the hard work and dedication day in and day out. This season brought many spectacular memories but the most memorable game would have to be the Watertown game.We were expected to lose, however we pulled through in the final seconds to upset a top ranked team on their home court. We had six seniors on the team including Sam Trant, Vanessa Parker, Carli Buono, Marisa LoPilato, Rebecca Walsh, and Nicole Kuleszka. All of us had different roles on the team, but we all had the same goal, and that was for us to leave our mark on this program. As a group of seniors we have played together for eight years and we truly have become a family and we will always be family. The captains this season were Vanessa Parker and Sam Trant. Vanessa brought the off-the-court leadership while Sam brought the on-the-court leadership. Together, along with the other four seniors, they proved anything is possible - if you just believe. Finishing the season at 12-8 and capturing a Middlesex League Championship, the Spartans will look to protect it next season with four of five returning starters - being the unexpected team is the best!

Captains' Words

Hockey is one of the few sports where you see your team as your family. Thankfully we had a very close knit group of guys this year. This was especially true for the senior class. All of us became closer friends than we could have imagined and we enjoyed every second we spent together. This year was different from the others. Our team unity was tested before we even stepped on the ice. One of our teammates became ill and was ruled out for the 2013 season. Our whole team came together and dedicated the season to him. The season was full of exciting highlights and memories. One great game was when we played Burlington at the Ice Palace and came out with a 3-3 tie. That night, Burlington raised their State Championship banner from the previous year. We were heavy underdogs, but a late power play goal in the third sealed the tie. Another exciting game we were expected to lose was the Reading game. They were ranked 5th in the state and we tied them 1-1. Two seniors really stepped up their play during that game. Goaltender Bobby Giordano had 45 saves and Ben Allen scored the late tying goal. Senior Night, although we lost, was a very exciting and memorable game. Senior Connor Duffy had a huge goal. Arguably the biggest game of the year came against Amesbury-Whittier; a team we had to beat to make the tournament. It was down to the wire, but Senior Brendan Regan came through with the winning goal with only 14 seconds remaining on the clock. Finally, in our tournament game against Wilmington, we were heavy underdogs once again, and we dug ourselves into an early hole when we were down 3-0 at the end of the first period. We fought our way back into the game dominating the second and third periods but fell just short, losing 4-2 with Wilmington adding an empty net goal at the end. The team couldn't have asked for a better tournament game atmosphere - it was a dream to play in it. Although that game ended our season, we played our hearts out and left it all on the ice. We would like to thank all our fans; thank you all for your faithful support throughout the season. You guys truly are the best fans in the league. We would also like to offer a special shout out to fellow senior and great friend, Super Fan Steve Toussaint, who religiously backed us game in and game out. Thank you to all our coaches for making this a memorable senior season. Their knowledge of the game was a key asset to the success we had this year. To our parents: thank you for everything you have done throughout our hockey career. We know hockey can be incredibly time consuming. We appreciate everything you have done for us. To all the underclassmen on the team: thank you boys for everything. You are awesome teammates. Finally, a special thank you to all of our fellow seniors: Kris Bowdidge, Dalton Cox, Brendan Donovan, Connor Duffy, Bobby Giordano, Robbie Paone, Frank Sparco, Ben Allen, Andrew Cann, and Brendan Regan. It was a great year and we couldn't have shared this time with any better group of seniors. Thanks again for everything and best of luck to Stoneham High Hockey in the future.

MEMORIES

My fondest memory revolves around the compassion and selflessness of our well-known and well-beloved custodian, Charlie Freeman. I remember on special occasions, Charlie would come around during lunches and hand out soda to all students. He would also leave snacks in his office which would help stave off our hunger during the 90 minute classes. Charlie would even come around with the trash barrels during lunches with his famous inquiry, "Ya done yet, kids?" so we wouldn't have to interrupt our conversations. I won't even begin to mention Charlie's incredible pie-eating skills that led him to victory every year at the Thanksgiving pep rally. Whenever I see him in the halls, he is always sure to say, "Hi, Gertrude!" with a smile. Although Gertrude is not my name, the humor I found in this misnomer was enough to make any day brighter. Charlie's endless generosity and kindness is something that I, as well as the class of 2013, will never forget.

The 2012-13 season was a much different season than past seasons for the Spartan football team. We ended with a 7-4 record. I especially loved the chemistry the team had with each other; we fooled around, but everyone knew that once it was time to get down to business, the fooling around needed to stop. Coach Almeida, one of the best coaches in the state, taught me things I never knew before and allowed me to realize the true potential I had as a football player. His guidance not only led to our winning season, but personally helped me become a Middlesex League All-Star, a Boston Herald All-Scholastic, and unbelievably, helped me earn a spot at the Shriners Bowl. Tying the SHS record for most touchdown receptions couldn't have been achieved without the help of my best friend,since age 7, and our quarterback, Andrew Cann. Andrew and I joined the football team together our freshman year and we knew that one day, if we worked hard, it would pay off, and it did. Now, the work, the coaching, and the great team effort has paid off asndI will be attending a Division 1 college, Sacred Heart. I will never forget the memories I made during my senior football season with the Spartans.

--- Eric Mooney

By far the best memory of my high school career was my trip to Costa Rica with Junko, Abby, Arden, Liz, Melissa, Emily and Zoey. We went zip lining, white water rafting, and we ventured off into the woods and swung from vines. Each of these things brought us much closer as friends. Luckily we were able to stay with home-stay families; having people open their homes and hearts to us meant a lot. Although many families didn't have much, they were willing to share what they did have. We were able to thank the families by painting their neighborhood jungle gym. The gratitude they expressed for such a small act was heartwarming. We were able to learn about ourselves, about each other, and about people outside our small town. Thank you to Mrs. Mills, Ms. Sheehan, Mrs. Breen and to everyone on the trip. Pura Vida!

My favorite memory at SHS was definitely during my junior year. It was while I was participating in the drama club. Every year, the drama club participates in a state-wide competition known as Drama Festival. Schools perform shows in front of judges and audiences and the best shows move on to the following rounds of competition. We compete every year, but for the last several years we were not able to impress the judges enough to move on to the next round. That year, however, the judges were thoroughly impressed with our rendition of Shakespeare's Much Ado About Nothing and we moved on to the second round. It was such an exhilarating feeling hearing the judges announce the schools that were moving on, but our school's named was announced incorrectly, as Stoneham Middle School. It did not matter to us, as we still moved on to the semi-finals. It was an unforgettable experience that I will always take with me. I am so glad that I was a part of the cast and crew of that production.

--- Nicholas Preziosi

Throughout our senior year, so many of my classmates have stated how close our grade is. I believe this started sophomore year during Carnival Ball. Even though some were timid to participate in the class act, a large group of us decided to participate. The week of Carnival Ball was full of rehearsals and long nights, yet we had a blast putting together our act. Deciding to base our "Don't Stop Believin'" act on a flashmob was such a good idea! We all came together to learn the dance and organize the skit. Our act was so much fun, we still talk about it to this day. Since then I feel our grade has united as one, enjoying every day we have together.

--- Jessica Schores

Freshman year I was planning to play football, but I was already two months behind in practice since I went to Florida that summer. When I came back, I decided to play soccer instead, since I had been playing all my life anyway. During the first practice I didn't really talk to anyone on the team. The following half day I was asked to go out to eat at Friendly's with them and I felt welcomed by them so I joined. To this day, these guys have been my best friends. They are like brothers to me. I sometimes think of what high school would have been like if I hadn't met them. I am so grateful that this happened to me. Love you guys, thanks for everything!

--- Steve Keskinidis

My favorite memory at Stoneham High School was when the boys varsity basketball team beat Watertown at Watertown. It was during my junior year and it was the biggest game of the year. The game was tied with only eight seconds left on the clock. I passed in the ball to Brad Fagan then he passed it to Zach Woodland. Zach passed to Steve McGrath and he went up for a layup, but, unfortunately, missed. I was in the right place for the rebound and layed it up to win the game at the buzzer! Finally beating Watertown was a true team effort and it was the best feeling I could ever have hoped for. I will always remember that game.
